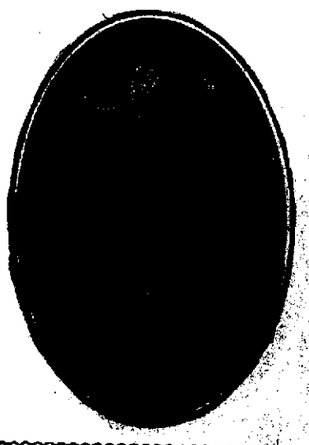
A. L. COLE, ESQ., DIED YESTERDAY MORNING

Funeral Will Be Held at Cole Home Tuesday Forenoon and at DuBois in Afternoon

MEMORIAL MEETING TUESDAY

Arthur Leroy Cole, one of Clearfield's most able laywers and citizens died yesterday morning about three o'clock. Mr. Cole was born on December 24th, 1857 in Potter county and started his profession reading law in the office of Olmstead & Larrabee of Coudersport. He was admitted to the Clearfield County Bar in January 1882 and located at DuBois.

He was a man of brilliant attainments and keen legal mind and soon



forged to the front in his profession. He developed rapidly into one of the leading criminal lawyers at this Bar. He was a tireless worker and a fighter who never knew the word surrender and his ability as a trial lawyer soon won for him a most enviable reputation throughout western and central Pennsylvania.

In 1914, following the election of Judge Singleton Bell, Mr. Cole came to Clearfield and took Mr. Bell's place and became senior member of the firm of Cole & Hartswick, and at the time of his death was regarded as the real lader of the Cleanfield county Bar.

Mr. Cole was a wise counsellor, an able lawyer, and aside from his legal profession an intensely loyal friend. Just at the zenith of his ability and practice his death at this time will be a great loss to the Clearfield Bar.

Mr. Cole had been suffering from stomach trouble for some time, but was recently stronger and in better health than for a long time. December second he went to the Clearfield hospital and was operated upon for ulcerated stomach and appendicitis. He got along finely following the operation, but on Monday night last took a decided turn for the worse. His condition was found to be due to a bowel obstruction and another operation was performed on Thursday morning. It was too late, however, and despite one of the gamest battles ever fought against death the end came as above stated.

The deceased is survived by a widow and five children, as follows: A. Newton Cole, of Akron, O.; Mrs. Albert Blakeslee, of North East, Pa.; Mrs. Walter Lundergan, of near Chicago; Mrs. George Vosburg, of Toledo, and Miss Marjorie, at home. He is also survived by four brothers, Charles H and Orrin of Shinglehouse, Pa., and James and John of Yama, Colorado and three sister. Mrs. H. J. Flegal, of Clearfield, Mrs. Mollie Beezer, of Shinglehouse, Pa., and Mrs. Walter Stiles, of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held at his late home on Tuesday morning at 10:15, where Rev. Dr. Reeve of Clearfield and Rev. Dr. Platt, of Erie, Pa., will officiate. The remains will then be taken to DuBois on the 11:44 train where the funeral will be held from the M. E. church and interment made in DuBois cemetery.

Memorial Meeting Announcement

The Clearfield Bar Association met this morning for the purpose of taking suitable action on the death of A. L. Cole, Esq. Judge Bell presided and appointed J. Frank Snyder, Esq., to arrange the details incident to the memorial meeting and funeral on the part of the Bar. The following committee on resolutions was also appointed: Hon. Allison O. Smith, J. P. O'Laughlin, A. M. Liveright, W. A. Hagerty and James A. Gleason, Esqs.

The memorial meeting will be held Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Following this meeting the Bar will go in a body to the Cole home on West Front street, where the funeral services will be held at 10:15.

The members of the Bar will go to DuBois in a special car attached to the regular train and will return on a special train leaving DuBois at 4 o'clock.

What Germany Will Give Up to Make Peace

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg

Black portions of this map show territory Germany and Austria have taken from their enemies, and the what the allies have taken from them. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's bid for peace in his notes to foreign powers does not mention the terms, but they were intimated in Berlin. Germany will restore Belgium and northern France, and Austria will give up part of Serbia, and presumably all Roumania she has taken. The allies must give up the small section of Germany near the northwestern corner of Switzerland, now held by the French and all the Italians hold of Austria, as well as all the German colonies that have been taken by the British. But the blow falls hardest on Russia, which would be asked to give up Poland and Lithuania now held by the Germans, that independent kingdoms might be made of them to protect the Germans on the west from possible Russian aggression in the future.

JOHN MONAGHAN HIT BY TRAIN AND KILLED

FORMER CLEARFIELD RESIDENT

John Monaghan, section foreman for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Tyler, Pa, was instantly killed about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the railroad between Weedville and Tyler. Monaghan and his crew had finished the day's labor and were on their way home, walking the track. While rounding a sharp curve a freight train bore down upon them. The three men with Mr. Monaghan saw the approaching train and jumped from the track. He was plodding along through the storm with his head down and neither saw the train nor heard the warning cries of his companions. The engine struck and knocked him down, the entire train passing over him, cutting off his head and both arms and otherwise mangling the body.

The deceased was the eldest son of Mrs. Ann Monaghan and lived in Clearfield for a number of years. He was an industrious, hardworking man and his untimely death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of true friends.

The deceased was about 60 years of age and leaves a widow and eight children and is also survived by his aged mother, three sisters and one brother, as follows: Mrs. James Fleecher, of Lawrence township, Mrs. James McDonald, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Annie Carey of Trenton, N. J. and Thomas of Newark, N. J.

"It is not enough," said he, "that we teach habits of thrift and saving by soliciting and selling life insurance protection, but an extra and permanent effort might be made to check the extraordinary wastefulness of our people individually and collectively."

Pleads Mistake and Court Lets Him Go

Frank Williams Claims he Took the Overcoat by Mistake

Three or four cases were disposed of at regular morning criminal court by Judge Bell this morning. Frank Williams, who was arrested at McGee's Mills last week charged with stealing an overcoat from Diffenbaugh's restaurant at Mahaffey and carrying concealed deadly weapons, entered pleas of guilty to both charges, but said he took the overcoat in mistake. Believing his story Judge Bell allowed him to go on payment of the costs in the case.

The next case called was Roy Hansard the young colored man who stole his mother's Christmas savings fund check, forged her name to it and went to Pittsburgh on the spoils. He entered a plea of guilty when he was arraigned before the court.

The theft and forgery yielded $65.40 and $45 of this amount was recovered when Sheriff McCloskty captured the young man in Pittsburgh. After hearing his story and learning that this was his second attempt at forging his mothers' name Judge Bell sent him back to jail for further investigation.

Attempt Made to Hold Up the Proprietor of St Charles Hotel

Masked Robber Met Charles Callahan in Cellar of Hotel With Demand for His Valuables

Charley Callahan, proprietor of the St. Charles hotel, had an experience Saturday evening that chased the cold chills up and down his back for a few minutes. About 11:20 Charley, as is his custom, went down to the cellar to bank his furnac fire for the night. He was engaged in raking down the ashes when a voice behind him ordered him to about face and hand over his money. When Callahan straightened up and turned around he found himself looking into the muzzle of a wicked looking revolver. The man behind the gun was disguised by a red handkerchief across the lower part of his face.

It is no cinch getting money from Mr. Callahan at any time, unless you have a full legal right thereto and come well recommended and Charley very naturally did not feel like giving up, at least without a struggle, and he decided to spar for a little time. He informed the highwayman that he had no money with him but that if he would come up stairs to the safe he would give him all the money he wanted. The fellow was suspicious and again told him to hand over his valuables. Charley told him he could search him if he felt so disposed but would find no money and then the robber consented to go up stairs and with the gun at Charley's back followed him upstairs. The lights were out in the hall and when Mr. Callahan got to the head of the stairs he made a run for it and got out onto the street, where he immediately gave the alarm.

The police were promptly notified and were quickly on the scene, but a careful search of the premises failed to locate the would be robber.

Mr. Callahan says his visitor was a young man of small stature and wore a grey cap. He possessed a cheap, but not very inviting looking revolver and was evidently of local talent.

Fire Caused by Boy Dropping Match While Searching for Coat

Property Loss at Hainsey Home on Fourth Street Will Total Six Hundred Dollars

The fire alarm sounded for District 2 at 11 o'clock this morning for a fire which broke out in the attic of the home of Bert Hainsey on Fourth street, above Margaretta. The fire had a good start by the time the firemen arrived, and it took an hour's hard work before the flames were controlled.

The fire was caused by "Punch", Mr. Hainsey's 7 years old son, who dropped a match in the attic while hunting an overcoat.

The loss will amount to $500 or $600 and hits Mr. Hainsey particularly hard just at this time.

FIRE HAZARDS

Clearfield has a well organized fire department and the members of the different companies have a fighting spirit. They have done well in the past. Our town has repeatedly been threatened with serious conflagrations and each time the local department has been able to cope with the situation. They have the men and would like to be placed in position to say to the elements "bring on your fire and we will show you how soon we can put it out." Unfortunately the department at present is not in shape to welcome a fire. At this morning's blaze two sections of old hose broke and delayed progress in coping with the flames. It will be well to consider the needs of those who protect us from loss by fire.

AN INVITATION TO TEACHERS

During the past year THE PROGRESS has installed up to date printing machinery of which it is proud. Those who have not seen the working of the Linotype and Intertype which cast type out of molten metal as it is needed simply by the pressing of a typewriter key by an expert operator should take advantage of this educational opportunity this week. Without these wonderful machines it would be impossible to print a newspaper like the Progress with all the local, state and national news. Our printing press is the most speedy in town. It prints, cuts, folds and delivers either a four, six or eight page newspaper at the rate of eighty per minute and is capable of higher speed than that. It can be seen in operation any day between 4 p. m. and 4:25 p. m. It does not believe in the eight hour day but works only about thirty minutes. The Linotype can be seen at any time during the day from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. We invite all teachers to our plant and a lady will greet you and show you the workings of the machines.

A TRIPLE LOSS

The Clearfield County Bar has ample reason to look upon the year 1916 as one fraught with great loss to its personal. Within a space of six months Oscar Mitchell, Thomas H. Murray and A. L. Cole, three of the most staunch members of the Bar have been called to the great beyond. All were men of high ideals and masterly ability. Each excelled in his respective filed. All were true to their thoughts and convictions and held to their views regardless of criticism. They fought their own battles and often in the face of adversity and when public sentiment was against them. They were men; real men, not afraid to fight for what they thought was right. They knew the needs of this community and were always in the lead in all movements looking toward the ideal.

The customary memorial meeting which will be held in the court house on Tuesday morning at eight-thirty will be very impressive indeed. The necessity for three such meetings within so short a period is felt keenly by all members of the Bar. Men are only clay and must answer the Divine call of their Creator when their life's work is done. Happy in the thought, however, are we, that these men lived the right life and have enriched the life of this community.

Telephone Company Company Makes Large Christmas Gifts to Employes

It was announced last night by Theo. N. Vail, President of the American Telephone & Telegraph that an extra cash payment exceeding six million dollars will be distributed to certain class of employees of the company comprising the Bell Telephone system to aid them in meeting the abnormal living conditions.

Mr. Vail stated that "Employees who have been in the service for over one year and who are receiving three thousand dollars or less a year will receive the equivalent of three weeks pay, while those of the same class who have been in the service the equivalent of two weeks pay. Employees receiving over three thousand and less than five thousand dollars will also participate in the payment but in the same proportion as those receiving the smaller rate of pay. This is not intended to be a distribution of profits, nor do all employees participate."

L. H. Kinnard, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania and associated companies said in commenting on this announcement "that in the territory of those companies along there would be approximately fifteen thousand employees affected, and that about three quarters of a million dollars would be distributed." He added that "the distribution would be completed on January first at the latest, and that special efforts were being made to place the payments in the hands of the employees before Christmas.

THOUGHTS ON THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

"At Chrismastide the open hand,
Scatters its bounty o'er sea and land,
And none are left to grieve alone,
For Love is Heaven and claims its Own."

—Margaret E. Sangster.

The bit of verse above by the dear writer Margaret Sangster gives us a splendid idea of what Christmas should mean in our lives. It should mean a holiday time indeed, a time when the poor as well as the rich may have blessings for which to be thankful.

Too often the holiday season means but overtime and hard work for our fellow mortals—ceaseless toil and hurry to please fretty shoppers who compel salesgirls to bear the brunt of their irritation. Those of us who purchase our gifts early are able to look forward to the festal tide with only anticipations of family reunions and enjoyment. Let us at least be thoughtful for others at this time.

Last year we girls in the old school first decided to exchange only simple gifts which we made ourselves. The money which would have been spent in more expensive presents was placed in a box so that nobody knew what each gave. It was then taken to make the holiday more joyful for those who would otherwise suffer. On Christmas day, as I sat down to the bountifully spread table with my loved ones, the turkey looked much more tempting and the cranberry jelly far more red than if I had done nothing to make the day happy for others. And I am sure the other girls felt exactly the same way.

You will realize that some people are inclined to manifest a grasping spirit at Christmastide rather than generosity, and this has been caused by a mere "trading of gifts." We have made, I fear, the most wonderful season of the year a time of sham, and not a time of spontaneous generosity as it was intended to be.

This is being overcome, however, and I feel sure that we will have things the way they ought to be within the next year or so.

And now, dear friends, A Merry Christmas to you, one and all.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions, instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks" "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists, throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

William T. Wunk the milk man does not believe in eating stale venison so he waited until the last day of the season to do his killing a nice spike buck.

At the regular annual meeting of the Sunday School board of the M. E. Sunday school tomorrow night officers will be chosen to serve that school during 1917.

The merchants of Curwensville all report a larger holiday trade than ever thus far and taking into consideration that everybody is working and that every industrial plant around the town will have a pay day during the week, should enable them to set a record for holiday sales.

To take care of the usual large amount of holiday express the Adams Express company began Sunday service yesterday and we understand that next Sunday both companies, the Adams and American will have express service on all trains entering Curwensville.

The writer as well as 2999 other citizens of Curwensville have a grievance against the storekeepers of this town which we desire to air at the present time. Now, Mr. Merchant outside of a few weeks at the holiday time you close your stores at 6 p. m. which we agree is right and as it should be, but why do you at the same time turn off your window lights, leaving the town in practical darkness and cause the average person to wonder whether he is in Lumber City, Ansonville or Curwensville. If this is done for economy we believe it unwise as the very night that your doors are locked are the nights that we have nothing else to do but gaze in at the many [illegible] goods which your display there. It is true that there are few exceptions among you, but we do earnestly entreat you to think this over until January 1 and then let there be light.

Worthy gifts for father, husband, brother or friend. L. G. VAUGHN, Men's and Boy's Clothing, Curwensville.

Miss Edna Ferber, author of the "Emma McChesney" [illegible] to be the highest [illegible] writer in America.

Like New Velvet

That's what one lady said after I had cleaned a velvet suit for her. The "pile" stood up and had that "shimmery" look of new matrial. She was pleased. You will be, too, if you will bring in anything velvet to be cleaned.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-wate drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, threby avoiding serious kidney complications.

DEFIES BASEBALL TRUST

EDWARD BARROW

Ed. Barrow, president of the International league, has defied the National Baseball commission, the high court of baseball. He caused the passage of a resolution in the annual meeting of his directors refusing to pay to Charles Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn National league team, $9,000 for the International League franchise in Newark, N. J. Ebbets held the Newark franchise in the International league, and when the war came on with the federal league he gave up the right to have a club in Newark. Ebbets asked the International league to give him $74,000 but the commission thought $9,000 was sufficient, and directed the International league to pay. The refusal, if persisted in, will cause the International to be considered an "outlaw" organization.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking pepsin, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the root cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, coated tongue, poor appetite, sick headache, feeling no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you need take Olive Tablets, the vegetable liver regulator.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FIRST AUTO INAUGURATION PARADE

Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 18:— The first automobile inauguartion parade in this country is planned to take place here two weeks from tomorrow, when the Rev. Sidney J. Catts is inducted into the office of governor of Florida. The election of Catts over the regular Democratic nominee was an event quite out of the ordinary in the political history of Florida, and the arrangements committee decided that it called for something out of the ordinary in the way of inauguration. After much discussion it has been determined that an automobile parade shall be substituted for the customary military display on inauguration day. The elimination of the military parade is considered all the more appropriate since the incoming executive is a minister of the gospel. Every county of has been invited to send automobiles for the parade.

Special Feature of the Globe Theatre Tomorrow

Howland, a trapper, together with his wife Jeanne, and little son Robert are hurt while sled riding and would have been killed had it not been for the timely assistance of Blaker, a trader. The father takes Robert who is seriously hurt to a doctor, and in the meantime Blake who is left to care for Howland's wife falls in love with her. They go away together and when Howland returns he finds the cabin empty. Howland vows to be avenged on Blake. After some time the latter tires of Jeanne and leaves her to return to his lawful wife. But he returns again to the cabin where he left her and finds her gone.

Twenty years later Howland tells his son Robert the sorrow Blake has caused him and Robert joins his father in renewing a vow of vengeance. When Howland sees Blake by the side of a murdered man, an opportunity for revenge presents itself, and though he knows that Blake did not commit the crime, he succeeds in having him convicted. In escaping from his guards Blake is killed. His sons hearing of his death set out to kill Howland. They succeed. See this picture at the Globe tomorrow night and see the reunion between mother and son.

Bogus "Lord Borgoyne" May Be Granted Pardon For Xmas

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 18.—There appears to be a strong probability that a Christmas gift in the form of a pardon may be handed to "Lord" Barrington, who is serving a life term in the Missouri State prison for the murder of James P. McCann near this city in 1902. Persistent efforts to obtain freedom for the notorious prisoner have been made during the past half dozen years. This time his counsel has gone before the pardon board with a petition signed by members of the jury which convicted him, by several justices of the State Supreme court and other persons of prominence and influence.

Freedom for the bogus lord, whose real name is said to be F. G. Barton, would add another chapter to the sensational career of a man who has been known to the police of three continents as a society highwaymen, resourceful crook, bigamist, forger, and murderer. Until his arrest on the murder charge in 1902 put a check to his career "Lord Barrington" was one of the most picturesque figures in "Polite" crookdom, for although he was of lowly origin, his specialty of passing as a member of the British peerage went well in numerous cities and helped him to live without work for many years.

He was the son of a hack driver in Tunbridge Wells, England. At the age of 12 years, he was sent to prison for embezzlement. After serving three years he escaped, only to be arrested two years later and sentenced for robbery. At the age of 18 he stole securities values at $80,000, and was sentenced to ten years' penal servitude, but was released on a forged pardon.

While still in England he got into some of the best households as a servant, studied the ways of society and in later years made good use of his studies. He perfected himself in French, German and classics and was a polished fraud when he arrived in this country in 1891. He posed here as the son of an English nobleman of rank and wealth. As such he won Miss E. Celestin Miller, of Brooklyn, an heiress with a fortune in her own right. After marrying Miss Miller he had the effrontery to return to the land where he had served much time and established himself with his wife in a home at West Brighton. There he coldbloodedly told his wife the truth about himself.

Stripped of every penny by her husband, the unhappy wife returned to this country with her child, and Barton was arrested and sent back to prison to serve out an old sentence. Immediately after his release he returned to the United States.

In 1902 Philadelphia society was agog over the arrival in Bergoyne of the English poetess. His lordship was another Lord Byron except that before that came to life he had courted and wedded Miss Margaret Rafferty, an heiress. While they were on their honeymoon "Borgoyne" slipped from the train and disappeared. After keeping under cover for some time the ex-convict made his appearance in St. Louis society as "Lord Barrington." He met and married Miss Wilhelmina Grace Cochran, of Independence, Iowa, who was visiting St. Louis at the time. Before he could enjoy the money he had obtained through this marriage a hard-headed brother of Miss Cochran had uncovered his record and had "Barrington" thrown into prison. Following his exposure Barrington succeeded in winning the confidence of James P. McCann, a wealthy horseman and hotel owner. McCann was known as a man who drank heavily, hodnobbed with a fast set, and was rapidly dissipating the remnants of his fortune.

On the night of the murder McCann and Barrington went together to a suburban resort. McCann drank heavily. Barrington claimed that they got in bad company, and that there was a fight in which both men figured. About 10 o'clock the two boarded a car and rode to Bonfils station, a lonely spot in the farther environs of St. Louis. A few minutes later three pistol shots were heard. Nearly a week later the nude body of McCann was found floating in a pool in an abandoned quarry. Barrington was at once arrested. One bit of evidence after another was found that point to the "lord as the murderer. His trial, which resulted in his conviction and sentence to death, was one of the most sensational in the history of the country. For five years there waged a legal battle to save him from the noose. The case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, which tribunal upheld the conviction. In 1905 Barrington's life was saved by the act of Governor Folk in commuting his sentence to life imprisonment. During the years he has spent in prison Barrington has persisted in the declaration that he was innocent of the McCann murder.

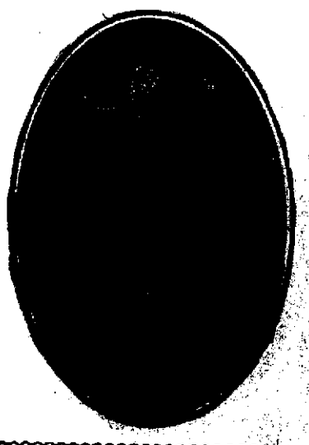
A. L. COLE, ESQ., DIED YESTERDAY MORNING

Funeral Will Be Held at Cole Home Tuesday Forenoon and at DuBois in Afternoon

MEMORIAL MEETING TUESDAY

Arthur Leroy Cole, one of Clearfield's most able laywers and citizens died yesterday morning about three o'clock. Mr. Cole was born on December 24th, 1857 in Potter county and started his profession reading law in the office of Olmstead & Larrabee of Coudersport. He was admitted to the Clearfield County Bar in January 1882 and located at DuBois.

He was a man of brilliant attainments and keen legal mind and soon



forged to the front in his profession. He developed rapidly into one of the leading criminal lawyers at this Bar. He was a tireless worker and a fighter who never knew the word surrender and his ability as a trial lawyer soon won for him a most enviable reputation throughout western and central Pennsylvania.

In 1914, following the election of Judge Singleton Bell, Mr. Cole came to Clearfield and took Mr. Bell's place and became senior member of the firm of Cole & Hartswick, and at the time of his death was regarded as the real lader of the Cleanfield county Bar.

Mr. Cole was a wise counsellor, an able lawyer, and aside from his legal profession an intensely loyal friend. Just at the zenith of his ability and practice his death at this time will be a great loss to the Clearfield Bar.

Mr. Cole had been suffering from stomach trouble for some time, but was recently stronger and in better health than for a long time. December second he went to the Clearfield hospital and was operated upon for ulcerated stomach and appendicitis. He got along finely following the operation, but on Monday night last took a decided turn for the worse. His condition was found to be due to a bowel obstruction and another operation was performed on Thursday morning. It was too late, however, and despite one of the gamest battles ever fought against death the end came as above stated.

The deceased is survived by a widow and five children, as follows: A. Newton Cole, of Akron, O.; Mrs. Albert Blakeslee, of North East, Pa.; Mrs. Walter Lundergan, of near Chicago; Mrs. George Vosburg, of Toledo, and Miss Marjorie, at home. He is also survived by four brothers, Charles H and Orrin of Shinglehouse, Pa., and James and John of Yama, Colorado and three sister. Mrs. H. J. Flegal, of Clearfield, Mrs. Mollie Beezer, of Shinglehouse, Pa., and Mrs. Walter Stiles, of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held at his late home on Tuesday morning at 10:15, where Rev. Dr. Reeve of Clearfield and Rev. Dr. Platt, of Erie, Pa., will officiate. The remains will then be taken to DuBois on the 11:44 train where the funeral will be held from the M. E. church and interment made in DuBois cemetery.

Memorial Meeting Announcement

The Clearfield Bar Association met this morning for the purpose of taking suitable action on the death of A. L. Cole, Esq. Judge Bell presided and appointed J. Frank Snyder, Esq., to arrange the details incident to the memorial meeting and funeral on the part of the Bar. The following committee on resolutions was also appointed: Hon. Allison O. Smith, J. P. O'Laughlin, A. M. Liveright, W. A. Hagerty and James A. Gleason, Esqs.

The memorial meeting will be held Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Following this meeting the Bar will go in a body to the Cole home on West Front street, where the funeral services will be held at 10:15.

The members of the Bar will go to DuBois in a special car attached to the regular train and will return on a special train leaving DuBois at 4 o'clock.

What Germany Will Give Up to Make Peace

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg

Black portions of this map show territory Germany and Austria have taken from their enemies, and the what the allies have taken from them. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's bid for peace in his notes to foreign powers does not mention the terms, but they were intimated in Berlin. Germany will restore Belgium and northern France, and Austria will give up part of Serbia, and presumably all Roumania she has taken. The allies must give up the small section of Germany near the northwestern corner of Switzerland, now held by the French and all the Italians hold of Austria, as well as all the German colonies that have been taken by the British. But the blow falls hardest on Russia, which would be asked to give up Poland and Lithuania now held by the Germans, that independent kingdoms might be made of them to protect the Germans on the west from possible Russian aggression in the future.

JOHN MONAGHAN HIT BY TRAIN AND KILLED

FORMER CLEARFIELD RESIDENT

John Monaghan, section foreman for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Tyler, Pa, was instantly killed about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the railroad between Weedville and Tyler. Monaghan and his crew had finished the day's labor and were on their way home, walking the track. While rounding a sharp curve a freight train bore down upon them. The three men with Mr. Monaghan saw the approaching train and jumped from the track. He was plodding along through the storm with his head down and neither saw the train nor heard the warning cries of his companions. The engine struck and knocked him down, the entire train passing over him, cutting off his head and both arms and otherwise mangling the body.

The deceased was the eldest son of Mrs. Ann Monaghan and lived in Clearfield for a number of years. He was an industrious, hardworking man and his untimely death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of true friends.

The deceased was about 60 years of age and leaves a widow and eight children and is also survived by his aged mother, three sisters and one brother, as follows: Mrs. James Fleecher, of Lawrence township, Mrs. James McDonald, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Annie Carey of Trenton, N. J. and Thomas of Newark, N. J.

Pleads Mistake and Court Lets Him Go

Frank Williams Claims he Took the Overcoat by Mistake

Three or four cases were disposed of at regular morning criminal court by Judge Bell this morning. Frank Williams, who was arrested at McGee's Mills last week charged with stealing an overcoat from Diffenbaugh's restaurant at Mahaffey and carrying concealed deadly weapons, entered pleas of guilty to both charges, but said he took the overcoat in mistake. Believing his story Judge Bell allowed him to go on payment of the costs in the case.

The next case called was Roy Hansard the young colored man who stole his mother's Christmas savings fund check, forged her name to it and went to Pittsburgh on the spoils. He entered a plea of guilty when he was arraigned before the court.

The theft and forgery yielded $65.40 and $45 of this amount was recovered when Sheriff McCloskty captured the young man in Pittsburgh. After hearing his story and learning that this was his second attempt at forging his mothers' name Judge Bell sent him back to jail for further investigation.

Attempt Made to Hold Up the Proprietor of St Charles Hotel

Charley Callahan, proprietor of the St. Charles hotel, had an experience Saturday evening that chased the cold chills up and down his back for a few minutes. About 11:20 Charley, as is his custom, went down to the cellar to bank his furnac fire for the night. He was engaged in raking down the ashes when a voice behind him ordered him to about face and hand over his money. When Callahan straightened up and turned around he found himself looking into the muzzle of a wicked looking revolver. The man behind the gun was disguised by a red handkerchief across the lower part of his face.

It is no cinch getting money from Mr. Callahan at any time, unless you have a full legal right thereto and come well recommended and Charley very naturally did not feel like giving up, at least without a struggle, and he decided to spar for a little time. He informed the highwayman that he had no money with him but that if he would come up stairs to the safe he would give him all the money he wanted. The fellow was suspicious and again told him to hand over his valuables. Charley told him he could search him if he felt so disposed but would find no money and then the robber consented to go up stairs and with the gun at Charley's back followed him upstairs. The lights were out in the hall and when Mr. Callahan got to the head of the stairs he made a run for it and got out onto the street, where he immediately gave the alarm.

The police were surrounded, the police were promptly notified and were quickly on the scene, but a careful search of the premises failed to locate the would be robber.

Mr. Callahan says his visitor was a young man of small stature and wore a grey cap. He possessed a cheap, but not very inviting looking revolver and was evidently of local talent.

Fire Caused by Boy Dropping Match While Searching for Coat

Property Loss at Hainsey Home on Fourth Street Will Total Six Hundred Dollars

The fire alarm sounded for District 2 at 11 o'clock this morning for a fire which broke out in the attic of the home of Bert Hainsey on Fourth street, above Margaretta. The fire had a good start by the time the firemen arrived, and it took an hour's hard work before the flames were controlled.

The fire was caused by "Punch", Mr. Hainsey's 7 years old son, who dropped a match in the attic while hunting an overcoat.

The loss will amount to $500 or $600 and hits Mr. Hainsey particularly hard just at this time.

FIRE HAZARDS

Clearfield has a well organized fire department and the members of the different companies have a fighting spirit. They have done well in the past. Our town has repeatedly been threatened with serious conflagrations and each time the local department has been able to cope with the situation. They have the men and would like to be placed in position to say to the elements "bring on your fire and we will show you how soon we can put it out." Unfortunately the department at present is not in shape to welcome a fire. At this morning's blaze two sections of old hose broke and delayed progress in coping with the flames. It will be well to consider the needs of those who protect us from loss by fire.

AN INVITATION TO TEACHERS

During the past year THE PROGRESS has installed up to date printing machinery of which it is proud. Those who have not seen the working of the Linotype and Intertype which cast type out of molten metal as it is needed simply by the pressing of a typewriter key by an expert operator should take advantage of this educational opportunity this week. Without these wonderful machines it would be impossible to print a newspaper like the Progress with all the local, state and national news. Our printing press is the most speedy in town. It prints, cuts, folds and delivers either a four, six or eight page newspaper at the rate of eighty per minute and is capable of higher speed than that. It can be seen in operation any day between 4 p. m. and 4:25 p. m. It does not believe in the eight hour day but works only about thirty minutes. The Linotype can be seen at any time during the day from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. We invite all teachers to our plant and a lady will greet you and show you the workings of the machines.

A TRIPLE LOSS

The Clearfield County Bar has ample reason to look upon the year 1916 as one fraught with great loss to its personal. Within a space of six months Oscar Mitchell, Thomas H. Murray and A. L. Cole, three of the most staunch members of the Bar have been called to the great beyond. All were men of high ideals and masterly ability. Each excelled in his respective filed. All were true to their thoughts and convictions and held to their views regardless of criticism. They fought their own battles and often in the face of adversity and when public sentiment was against them. They were men; real men, not afraid to fight for what they thought was right. They knew the needs of this community and were always in the lead in all movements looking toward the ideal.

The customary memorial meeting which will be held in the court house on Tuesday morning at eight-thirty will be very impressive indeed. The necessity for three such meetings within so short a period is felt keenly by all members of the Bar. Men are only clay and must answer the Divine call of their Creator when their life's work is done. Happy in the thought, however, are we, that these men lived the right life and have enriched the life of this community.

Telephone Company Company Makes Large Christmas Gifts to Employes

It was announced last night by Theo. N. Vail, President of the American Telephone & Telegraph that an extra cash payment exceeding six million dollars will be distributed to certain class of employees of the company comprising the Bell Telephone system to aid them in meeting the abnormal living conditions.

Mr. Vail stated that "Employees who have been in the service for over one year and who are receiving three thousand dollars or less a year will receive the equivalent of three weeks pay, while those of the same class who have been in the service the equivalent of two weeks pay. Employees receiving over three thousand and less than five thousand dollars will also participate in the payment but in the same proportion as those receiving the smaller rate of pay. This is not intended to be a distribution of profits, nor do all employees participate."

L. H. Kinnard, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania and associated companies said in commenting on this announcement "that in the territory of those companies along there would be approximately fifteen thousand employees affected, and that about three quarters of a million dollars would be distributed." He added that "the distribution would be completed on January first at the latest, and that special efforts were being made to place the payments in the hands of the employees before Christmas.

THOUGHTS ON THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

"At Chrismastide the open hand,
Scatters its bounty o'er sea and land,
And none are left to grieve alone,
For Love is Heaven and claims its Own."

—Margaret E. Sangster.

The bit of verse above by the dear writer Margaret Sangster gives us a splendid idea of what Christmas should mean in our lives. It should mean a holiday time indeed, a time when the poor as well as the rich may have blessings for which to be thankful.

Too often the holiday season means but overtime and hard work for our fellow mortals—ceaseless toil and hurry to please fretty shoppers who compel salesgirls to bear the brunt of their irritation. Those of us who purchase our gifts early are able to look forward to the festal tide with only anticipations of family reunions and enjoyment. Let us at least be thoughtful for others at this time.

Last year we girls in the old school first decided to exchange only simple gifts which we made ourselves. The money which would have been spent in more expensive presents was placed in a box so that nobody knew what each gave. It was then taken to make the holiday more joyful for those who would otherwise suffer. On Christmas day, as I sat down to the bountifully spread table with my loved ones, the turkey looked much more tempting and the cranberry jelly far more red than if I had done nothing to make the day happy for others. And I am sure the other girls felt exactly the same way.

You will realize that some people are inclined to manifest a grasping spirit at Christmastide rather than generosity, and this has been caused by a mere "trading of gifts." We have made, I fear, the most wonderful season of the year a time of sham, and not a time of spontaneous generosity as it was intended to be.

This is being overcome, however, and I feel sure that we will have things the way they ought to be within the next year or so.

And now, dear friends, A Merry Christmas to you, one and all.

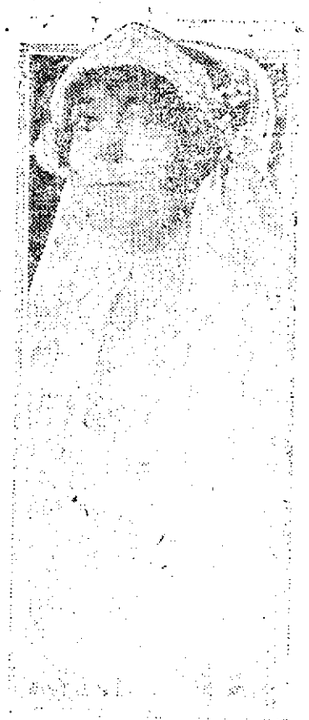
AMERICAN GIRL IS NOW A GERMAN PRINCESS



Baroness von Schoen

Miss Catherine Birney, daughter of the late Theodore Wells Birney of Washington, has been married to Baron Wilhelm von Schoen, secretary of the German embassy. The baron will take his bride to Mexico, where he has been transferred by his government. She is as well known there as she is in the United States having visited a brother-in-law and a sister frequently in the Mexican capital. The social prominence of both principals made their marriage of international interest.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions, instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks" "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists, throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

CURWENSVILLE

The [illegible] Teachers' Institute of the Curwensville district will be held next week at Clearfield.

Secretary Patton, of Harrisburg, is in town [illegible] days attending to business and looking after the interests of the department.

Jury Commissioner H. T. Smith begins the year today at Clearfield of filling the jury wheel for 1917.

Vincent De Palma & Co. tailor has had a nice new piano placed in his home on the Bailey road.

Miss Dorothy Wolf entertains at a luncheon and one hundred tomorrow afternoon at her home on upper State street.

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Curwensville Building and Loan association takes place in their rooms tomorrow night.

William T. Wunk the milk man does not believe in eating stale venison so he waited until the last day of the season to do his killing a nice spike buck.

At the regular annual meeting of the Sunday School board of the M. E. Sunday school tomorrow night officers will be chosen to serve that school during 1917.

The merchants of Curwensville all report a larger holiday trade than ever thus far and taking into consideration that everybody is working and that every industrial plant around the town will have a pay day during the week, should enable them to set a record for holiday sales.

To take care of the usual large amount of holiday express the Adams Express company began Sunday service yesterday and we understand that next Sunday both companies, the Adams and American will have express service on all trains entering Curwensville.

The writer as well as 2999 other citizens of Curwensville have a grievance against the storekeepers of this town which we desire to air at the present time. Now, Mr. Merchant outside of a few weeks at the holiday time you close your stores at 6 p. m. which we agree is right and as it should be, but why do you at the same time turn off your window lights, leaving the town in practical darkness and cause the average person to wonder whether he is in Lumber City, Ansonville or Curwensville. If this is done for economy we believe it unwise as the very night that your doors are locked are the nights that we have nothing else to do but gaze in at the many nice goods which your display there. It is true that there are few exceptions among you, but we do earnestly entreat you to think this over until January 1 and then let there be light.

Worthy gifts for father, husband, brother or friend.
L. G. VAUGHN,
Men's and Boy's Clothing,
Curwensville.

Miss Edna Ferber, author of the "Emma McChesney" stories, is said to be the highest paid short story writer in America.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-wate drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, threby avoiding serious kidney complications.

EDWARD BARROW

Ed. Barrow, president of the International league, has defied the National Baseball commission, the high court of baseball. He caused the passage of a resolution in the annual meeting of his directors refusing to pay to Charles Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn National league team, $9,000 for the International League franchise in Newark, N. J. Ebbets held the Newark franchise in the International league, and when the war came on with the federal league he gave up the right to have a club in Newark. Ebbets asked the International league to give him $74,000 but the commission thought $9,000 was sufficient, and directed the International league to pay. The refusal, if persisted in, will cause the International to be considered an "outlaw" organization.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking pepsin, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the root cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, a poor appetite, coat, [illegible] feeling no ambition or energy troubled with undigested food, you need take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FIRST AUTO INAUGURATION PARADE

Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 18:— The first automobile inauguartion parade in this country is planned to take place here two weeks from tomorrow, when the Rev. Sidney J. Catts is inducted into the office of governor of Florida. The election of Catts over the regular Democratic nominee was an event quite out of the ordinary in the political history of Florida, and the arrangements committee decided that it called for something out of the ordinary in the way of inauguration. After much discussion it has been determined that an automobile parade shall be substituted for the customary military display on inauguration day. The elimination of the military parade is considered all the more appropriate since the incoming executive is a minister of the gospel. Every county of has been invited to send automobiles for the parade.

Howland, a trapper, together with his wife Jeanne, and little son Robert are hurt while sled riding and would have been killed had it not been for the timely assistance of Blaker, a trader. The father takes Robert who is seriously hurt to a doctor, and in the meantime Blake who is left to care for Howland's wife falls in love with her. They go away together and when Howland returns he finds the cabin empty. Howland vows to be avenged on Blake. After some time the latter tires of Jeanne and leaves her to return to his lawful wife. But he returns again to the cabin where he left her and finds her gone.

Twenty years later Howland tells his son Robert the sorrow Blake has caused him and Robert joins his father in renewing a vow of vengeance. When Howland sees Blake by the side of a murdered man, an opportunity for revenge presents itself, and though he knows that Blake did not commit the crime, he succeeds in having him convicted. In escaping from his guards Blake is killed. His sons hearing of his death set out to kill Howland. They succeed. See this picture at the Globe tomorrow night and see the reunion between mother and son.

Bogus "Lord Borgoyne" May Be Granted Pardon For Xmas

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 18.—There appears to be a strong probability that a Christmas gift in the form of a pardon may be handed to "Lord" Barrington, who is serving a life term in the Missouri State prison for the murder of James P. McCann near this city in 1902. Persistent efforts to obtain freedom for the notorious prisoner have been made during the past half dozen years. This time his counsel has gone before the pardon board with a petition signed by members of the jury which convicted him, by several justices of the State Supreme court and other persons of prominence and influence.

Freedom for the bogus lord, whose real name is said to be F. G. Barton, would add another chapter to the sensational career of a man who has been known to the police of three continents as a society highwaymen, resourceful crook, bigamist, forger, and murderer. Until his arrest on the murder charge in 1902 put a check to his career "Lord Barrington" was one of the most picturesque figures in "Polite" crookdom, for although he was of lowly origin, his specialty of passing as a member of the British peerage went well in numerous cities and helped him to live without work for many years.

He was the son of a hack driver in Tunbridge Wells, England. At the age of 12 years, he was sent to prison for embezzlement. After serving three years he escaped, only to be arrested two years later and sentenced for robbery. At the age of 18 he stole securities values at $80,000, and was sentenced to ten years' penal servitude, but was released on a forged pardon.

While still in England he got into some of the best households as a servant, studied the ways of society and in later years made good use of his studies. He perfected himself in French, German and classics and was a polished fraud when he arrived in this country in 1891. He posed here as the son of an English nobleman of rank and wealth. As such he won Miss E. Celestin Miller, of Brooklyn, an heiress with a fortune in her own right. After marrying Miss Miller he had the effrontery to return to the land where he had served much time and established himself with his wife in a home at West Brighton. There he coldbloodedly told his wife the truth about himself.

Stripped of every penny by her husband, the unhappy wife returned to this country with her child, and Barton was arrested and sent back to prison to serve out an old sentence. Immediately after his release he returned to the United States.

In 1902 Philadelphia society was agog over the arrival of "Lord Bergoyne" of the English peerage. His lordship was [illegible] of excitement, but before that came to life he had courted and wedded Miss Margaret Rafferty, an heiress. While they were on their honeymoon "Borgoyne" slipped from the train and disappeared. After keeping under cover for some time the ex-convict made his appearance in St. Louis society as "Lord Barrington." He met and married Miss Wilhelmina Grace Cochran, of Independence, Iowa, who was visiting St. Louis at the time. Before he could enjoy the money he had obtained through this marriage a hard-headed brother of Miss Cochran had uncovered his record and had "Barrington" thrown into prison. Following his exposure Barrington succeeded in winning the confidence of James P. McCann, a wealthy horseman and hotel owner. McCann was known as a man who drank heavily, hodnobbed with a fast set, and was rapidly dissipating the remnants of his fortune.

On the night of the murder McCann and Barrington went together to a suburban resort. McCann drank heavily. Barrington claimed that they got in bad company, and that there was a fight in which both men figured. About 10 o'clock the two boarded a car and rode to Bonfils station, a lonely spot in the farther environs of St. Louis. A few minutes later three pistol shots were heard. Nearly a week later the nude body of McCann was found floating in a pool in an abandoned quarry. Barrington was at once arrested. One bit of evidence after another was found that point to the "lord as the murderer. His trial, which resulted in his conviction and sentence to death, was one of the most sensational in the history of the country. For five years there waged a legal battle to save him from the noose. The case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, which tribunal upheld the conviction. In 1905 Barrington's life was saved by the act of Governor Folk in commuting his sentence to life imprisonment. During the years he has spent in prison Barrington has persisted in the declaration that he was innocent of the McCann murder.

An Eleventh Hour Christmas Suggestion:

A subscription for The Saturday Evening Post or The Country Gentleman for Him and The Ladies' Home Journal for Her. Such a gift is reasonable in price and yet sure to please. Whats' the alternative? Crowded stores, hauled-over goods, impatient shoppers and irritable clerks. Not very satisfactory, is it? No wonder gift-giving isn't what it should be. You can avoid all this annoyance. By my plan all you have to do is to send $4.00 for The Post or The Journal or $1.00 for The Country Gentleman together with the names of the recipients, and your part is done. A beautiful gift card, bearing your name as donor, will be mailed to arrive on Christmas morning.

Order Now and then forget that Christmas present list
